 Shot on location at Argrennan Manor House, Castle Douglas, Dumfries and Galloway. Thanks to Ben Morgan and Gail Flanagan for their assistance.

Argrennan Manor House is a spectacular Georgian home sitting amidst 50 acres of grounds in the heart of rural Galloway. Each wedding at this exclusive-use hidden gem is completely bespoke, with staff on hand to give as much or as little advice as needed. Intimate celebrations for 60 guests can be held within the house itself, with room for 40 more in the evening. Those with a bigger guest list can add a marquee to boost the capacity to 200 guests. There's accommodation available for up to 34 guests too.

The venue's walled garden offers a beautiful backdrop for photography, while the house's interior is equally as photogenic: the daylight-flooded White Room is a dream spot for ceremonies; the spacious Dining Room boasts an open fire, tall Georgian windows and original wooden flooring, while the Argrennan Bar is a cosy snug for guests to retreat to once the party is in full swing and sample the sizable whisky selection!
